Alexandria Hazette.

THURSDAY EVENING AUG. 29, 1895.

A BURIED CITY.-The Russians have made a singular discovery in central Asia. In Turkestan, on the right bank of the Amou Daria, is a chain of rocky hills near the Bokharan town of Karki, and a number of large caves, which, upon examination, were found to which, upon examination, were found to lead to an underground city, built apparently long before the Christian era. According to the effigies, inscriptions and designs upon the gold and silver money unearthed from among the ruins, the town dates back to some two centuries before the birth of Christ. The underground Bokharan city is about two versts long, and is composed of an enormous labyrinth of corridors, streets and squares, surrounded by houses and other buildings two or three stories high. The edifices contain all kinds of utensils, pots, urns, were sto. The high degree of civilivases, etc. The high degree of civili-zation attained by the inhabitants of the city is shown by the fact that they built of several stories, by the symme-try of the streets and by the beauty of the baked clay and metal utensils, and of the ornaments and coins which have been found. It is supposed that long centuries ago this city, so carefully concealed in the bowels of the earth, provided an entire population with a refuge from the incursions of nomadic savages and robbers. - London Public

CHILD SURROUNDED BY RATTLE-SNAKES .- One day last week, Hull Kramer's little girl crawled through a small opening in the chicken coop to gather eggs. After entering, she saw between her and the small door a large rattlesnake, and, on finding her only way of escape shut off, she called for her father. He came and found his little daughter in more dauger than she thought, for close behind her laid the mate of the snake in front of her. Mr. Kramer cautioned her to keep quiet while he removed the roof of the coop. This being done, he lifted the little one up ont of the great danger that had so completely surrounded her and put an end to the snakes. Mr. Kamer lives on

Jackson river.
While John Mackey and wife were out in the mountains near their home, in Big Valley, gathering huckleberries, Mrs. Mackey was bitten on the arm by a rattlesnake. Mr. Mackey banaged the arm very tightly and with his mouth drew the poison out of the wound. The result was that Mrs. Mackey did not feel, in the least, any bad effects from the bite; but her husband, who so heroically placed himself in great danger for his wife and no doubt saved her life, did not come off so well. He is afraid of losing his eyesight.-Highland

My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrheea Remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons sufferings from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is inclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. Roach, J. P., Primroy, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by L. Stabler & Co.
